NATIONAL LAW LIBRARY FELLOWS PROGRAM

Impact the Future of Law Librarianship with Collaborative Fellowships

Is your library ready to shape the future of the legal information profession by developing the next generation of law librarians? The University of Arizona Daniel F. Cracchiolo Law Library invites you to join us in pioneering a transformative opportunity—our National Law Library Fellows Program.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Established in 2000, the University of Arizona Law Library Fellows Program has been a premier experiential training ground for aspiring law librarians nationwide. Now, thanks to a generous grant from the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services, we're expanding our reach to partner with law libraries like yours. Law firms, law schools, government law libraries—everyone is welcome!

WHAT WE OFFER TO YOU

- ▶ Tailored Support: From a comprehensive Fellowship Handbook to personalized consultations, we provide the resources and guidance needed to seamlessly integrate a Fellow into your library.
- ▶ Flexible Commitment: Host when there is a candidate in your area, and when your time and resources allow. A Fellow will work in your library for 20 hours per week for up to 2 years, allowing them to gain invaluable experience while contributing meaningfully to your library's mission.

WHAT YOU OFFER TO YOUR FELLOW

- ▶ Financial Assistance: Fellows, who are students in the University of Arizona online Master of Arts in Library and Information Science (MLIS) program, will receive a salary, fringe benefits and tuition remission for MLIS courses taken during the fellowship.
- ▶ Practical Experience: Fellows work 20 hours per week in your library, gaining hands-on experience in every aspect of law librarianship that you choose to offer.
